Holiday Tips for Teachers and Parents

December is an exciting month at school and at home. There are many holidays celebrated this time of year by people of various cultures and faiths. Discussing the diverse traditions of friends, neighbors and classmates gives children young and old a better understanding of those around them.

- Include children in holiday preparations. Let them contribute to baking, decorating or gift-making activities. Make sure you delegate age-appropriate tasks to avoid frustration.
- Holiday crafts make great gifts for friends and loved ones. Picture frames or ornaments which include a picture of the child or student will be treasured for many years!
- Teach the joy of giving to others. Organize a community service project for your classroom (caroling at a nursing home or volunteering at a soup kitchen). Help your child clean out their closet and donate any outgrown clothes to a clothing drive. When shopping at Stop & Shop, purchase some non-perishable food to donate to a local food bank.

Principal Challenge

Principals, what would you do to help your school earn $1,000? Would you challenge your local store manager to a hoops shooting contest? Would you become a human hamburger and allow your students to "dress you" in their favorite condiments? If so, then you are ready to submit your personal challenge! All submissions must be received by January 10, 2014 and performed by March 30, 2014.
