"The Hike"

Judy, a friend, told me this story: She was asked to accompany a friend on a trip through the Rockies. Her friend Alma wanted the trip to achieve a spiritual goal. She was seeking a moment of transcendence; something she had heard of from others, but never experienced herself. Her plan was to be among the beautiful peaks, to rent a remote cabin and, with the use of psychotropic drugs, seek such a moment. My friend, who had the time to travel, was to be the "support person," for Alma's spiritual journey. Judy, a hiker, felt the chance to wander the trails was worth the uncertainty of being the support person.

The two traveled from peak to peak in preparation for the particular day appointed for Alma's intentional journey. On the day, despite the chemical shortcut she took, Alma felt she did not find what she was looking for. Disappointed, she declined to go with Judy on a hike.

There, among those majestic mountains, Judy found a particular vista and, inspired by the majesty she was feeling, she began to meditate.

She reported the classic description of one who experiences the deepening awareness of the transcendent, the heightened senses, the flow of energy and the unity with all beings. It lasted minutes and was gone. Judy felt her life had changed. She lingered, at first, to process what had happened but eventually, she did so to delay her return to Alma. Aware that she had, almost randomly, expe-

January 6, "The Fourth Smooth Stone: Not Only is Action Essential, it is Required" Rev. Christina Rivera, Isn't it good enough to carry justice and love in our hearts? After all, action can get messy and uncomfortable. Guest Christina Rivera will explore with us the cognitive dissonance that can appear in our lives as Unitarian Universalists and how we can embrace the discomfort which often comes with social justice work.

January 13, "Can There Be a Practical Theology?" Rev. Jeanne Pupke, Beyond how many angels can dance on the head of a pin...can we find something useful in theology? Do we build our own, borrow from another or simply let it go extinct?

January 20, "Unfulfilled Dreams", Rev. Sherman Z. Logan, Jr. Fifty years after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr made his "I Have a Dream" speech, there are still places in our society, especially in our houses of worship, where Dr. Kings dream of an inclusive society, has remained an unfulfilled dream. How can we create a fully inclusive worship community where all people feel welcome?

January 27, "Suspicious of Joy" Rev. Jeanne Pupke, Do we allow ourselves enough joy? Where does it rise from and how can we welcome joy and not fear it?

rienced what her friend so desperately and futilely sought, she wondered what she could say. Somehow, she was clear that what she had experienced may have come because she did not seek it intentionally.

Moments of our own spiritual growth cannot be "acquired" with intention so much as they are received by those who are ready.

Intentionally seeking the holy requires more than optimizing our plans. Often it is the willingness to take the hike that prepares us to be open and grateful. "The hike" is a different journey for each person, no two alike.

In this New Year, I hope you can find the time for your own spiritual "hike" so that you too might wander into deeper awareness and gratitude.

VISION FOR FIRST UU

As Dorothy Hollahan mentioned in last month's newsletter, a group of members from the Board of Directors and the COM are planning to engage with the rest of the congregation to craft a Vision for First UU. According to "Vision, Mission and Covenant: Creating A Future Together," a publication of the UUA, a Vision is "a carefully defined picture of the congregation's future. It is not the current reality of the congregation, but it is a dream of what the congregation wants to make of itself."

There will be multiple opportunities for members and friends of the congregation to help create the Vision statement, including two public forums in February. If you already have ideas about the future of First UU, you can begin sharing them now! Simply send an email to vision@richmondUU.org. In your message, please address one or more of the following questions:

- In 5-10 years, what do you hope will be different about First UU? What should be the same as today?
- What do you want to be known for in the Richmond Community? In the UUA?
- Who are we? Who is our neighbor? What are we called to become?
- What are your dreams for the future of First UU?
- What kind of congregation will you be proud to be a member of?

Thank you in advance for sharing your thoughts!

~ Nikki Rovner

A NOTE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Next Steps for the Capital Campaign

I would like to take this opportunity to let you know about activity and next steps developing in the implementation of the capital project for our building. As we begin 2013 the Board will be doing some work and planning on the steps for implementation of the designs we have all been dreaming about for our building.

Currently the campaign is paused in its active canvassing for the holidays. The campaign has raised just under $1.5 million from 125 member households. A special thanks to those who have already made their commitment to the project's success.

In November the Board authorized BCWH Architects to develop detailed schematic drawings for the capital project. In addition, Conquest, Moncure & Dunn (CMD) general contractors have been retained for a fee to develop options and precise costs for the project components in partnership with BCWH. At this point, agreement has been reached on a design for the lower level including a medium-sized commercial kitchen of about 625 square feet, four fixed classrooms, and a relocation of the new handicapped-accessible restrooms. The four steps from the mezzanine level to the lower level will be replaced by a ramp and storage areas will be developed.

Prior to the first of the year we expect to see plans for the new entrance on Blanton Avenue. This new entrance will be funded by the children of Lenny Blackwood in her memory and we are grateful and privileged to have this donation in Lenny's honor.

In late January there is a meeting planned with the Board, the Capital Campaign Committee, and the Strategic Facilities Planning Committee to receive the BCWH and MCD plans, recommendations and pricing. The purpose of this meeting will be to develop project implementation plans, and decide when to break ground. This plan and recommendations will be presented to the congregation in February at a special meeting.

So, I offer thanks to all who have made this capital project possible to realize our dreams. Stay tuned for continual updates and communication.

In peace,

Dorothy Hollahan

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Thoughts for the Journey ~ ~ Unitarian Universalist Principles for Children

May we all use our UU principles as guides for daily living. I encourage you to weave these principles into conversation with your children as you discuss their school day, sporting event or a response to some local or national news. Our principles are promises that UUs make to one another. We believe that each and every person is important; We believe that all people should be treated fairly; We believe that our churches are places where all people are accepted, and where we keep on learning; We believe that each person must be free to search for what is true and right in life; We believe that all people should have a voice and a vote about the things that concern them; We believe that we should work for a peaceful, fair and free world; We believe that we should care for our planet earth, for it is our home.

-From My Little Book of Unitarian Universalism

In hope,
Rhonda

Adult Religious Education News

Exercise your body, mind and spirit by choosing from sixteen distinctly unique offerings in the Winter/Spring Programming Catalog. You will find options for your individual growth, growth as couples, parents, and some multi-generational hikes. There is planning for the aging process and a class on parenting as a UU. All classes are relevant to living life in a beloved community. The catalog is now available in hard copy and on-line! You will find it on the website under the heading GROW; Religious Education. Register at the Lifespan Religious Education table in the middle studio, email Rhonda@richmondUU.org or call (804)355-0777.

MULTIGENERATIONAL BOOK CLUB BEGINS JAN. 27, 1 PM.

This is a new book club for ages 11-100! Life Lessons in Literature will focus on young adult reads. Fricka Raycroft will facilitate. Join us at our first meeting to choose among the following titles: America by E. R. Frank, which Publishers' Weekly calls a "well-crafted and moving story of forgiveness-both of oneself and others;" a teenage boy named America, living in a treatment facility after a suicide attempt, alternates between the present and the past.

The Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky. Charlie, a freshman in high school, explores the dilemmas of growing up through a collection of letters he sends to an unknown receiver. Standing on the fringes of life offers a unique perspective, but there comes a time to see what it looks like from the dance floor. Since its publication, Stephen Chbosky's haunting debut novel has received critical acclaim, provoked discussion and debate, grown into a cult phenomenon with over a million copies in print, and inspired a major motion picture.

Freedom Writers' Diary: How a Teacher and 150 Teens Used Writing to Change Themselves and the World Around Them

When Erin Gruwell was a first-year high school teacher in Long Beach, CA, teaching the "unteachables" (kids that no other teacher wanted to deal with), she discovered that most of her students had not heard of the Holocaust. Shocked, she introduced them to books about tolerance—first-person accounts by the likes of Anne Frank and Zlata Filipovic, who chronicled her life in war-torn Sarajevo. The students were inspired to start keeping diaries of their lives that showed the violence, homelessness, racism, illness, and abuse that surrounded them. These student diaries form the basis of this book. Most readers will be proud to see how these students have succeeded.

A NOTE FROM OUR MEMBERSHIP DIRECTOR

My little corner of the world. . .

My corner will be full of thanks for January 2013! I want to thank all of you who have been buzzing around the First UU community making things happen. A special shout-out to all those who help with Sunday morning welcome: the greeters and ushers and the visitor's table volunteers; from the front desk volunteers, coffee volunteers to teachers and anyone who has anything to do with making the church feel like a welcoming place! I've encouraged the Membership Committee to engage in what they call "Mingling Ministry" – the intentional welcome of EVERYONE on Sunday mornings. If you like to welcome folks, feel free to get to First UU a little early, and speak to people who are seated in the Great Hall prior to service! I'd certainly appreciate your generous welcome.

I'll be away at school from January 2-January 27th, so I wish you all a very happy new year. Thanks for your continued support in my journey to ministry.

See you in February,

Pat

STEWARDSHIP AND CAPITAL CAMPAIGN NEWS

As the time approaches for the Annual Fund Drive supporting the operating budget for the 2013-14 fiscal year that begins next July, the Capital Campaign Committee will pause its solicitation efforts so Stewardship can focus on raising the resources required to maintain programming and other services for our Congregation and the broader community. While we have raised nearly $1.5 m in commitments for the capital project, funding our daily needs for the coming year will be the focus for the next few months.

We thank the Members and Friends - representing 125 households - who have already supported the capital project. As our architects refine the project details we will continue working to move project components along. In May we will resume calls on Members to gain additional support for the project.

The 2013-14 Stewardship Campaign will last six weeks, with the 'silent phase' to be conducted in February and the 'public phase' to begin with the annual Stewardship 'kickoff event', Cabaret – "Love Out Loud", on March 2, concluding at the end of March. Contributors to the Annual Fund Drive will be recognized in an appropriate way as we seek to have all Members and Friends of our Congregation make their commitment to support our Lifetime Religious Education, Social Justice and the many other programs that make First UU unique in Richmond, and our spiritual home.

Additional information about the upcoming Stewardship Annual Fund Drive and further updates on the Capital Campaign will be forthcoming.

Thank you for your continued support of our beloved community!

Joe Kent – Capital Campaign Co-Chairman

Ned Haley – Stewardship Committee Chairman

PEACE CENTER BOOK DISCUSSION

The Lemon Tree: An Arab, A Jew, and the Heart of the Middle East

Discussion about Israel-Palestine Scheduled for February 7

Join the Richmond Peace Education Center for a program about Israel-Palestine on Thursday, Feb. 7th, 2013, at 6:30pm.

The discussion will center around the book The Lemon Tree: An Arab, A Jew, and the Heart of the Middle East by Sandy Tolan. It will be held at the First Unitarian Universalist Church of Richmond.

With this program, the Peace Center seeks to develop a perspective of both peoples' histories in a way that lays the foundation for deeper understanding of the current conflict.

We invite First UU members and the Richmond community to read this book in preparation for our community discussion. The book is available for purchase in the First UU bookstore. Additional copies may be ordered through Amazon by contacting Pat Vaughn. It can also be ordered as an e-book and is available at most public libraries.

The book tells the true stories of two families. The Palestinian family lived in the village of al-Ramla. They built a house and grew a lemon tree in the courtyard. When the family was driven out during the 1948 war that established Israel's independence, a family of Bulgarian Jews fleeing Hitler's Europe took over the property, which they were told had been "abandoned." Drawing on interviews, Tolan reconstructs the stories of both families.

The Feb. 7 event will be interactive and will feature commentary from Middle East historian Michael Fischbach of Randolph Macon College.

To listen to a portion of the book, an excerpt can be found here:

Please plan on attending the discussion Feb. 7th. Email rpec@rpec.org or call 232-1002 to RSVP. The event is free and open to the public. Please contact Adria Scharff (scharf@rpec.org) or Raidah Hudson (raidah@comcast.net) if you have any questions, need further information or would like to be involved in the planning of this event. If you are part of a First UU small group, please consider reading this book and attending the event as a group.

RAINBOW CORNER

Please join us on January 29th as we join other faith based groups and activists from across the state in support of Equality Virginia's Day of Action (formerly referred to as Lobby Day).

Under the guidance of EV, over 200 activists from across the state gathered last year to voice their opinions and show their support of equality issues for the LGBT community.

EV has helped pass legislation that set up a state-wide registry for Advanced Health Care Directives that makes it easier for doctors to know who is authorized to make medical decisions for loved ones in a time of need. They've led the passage of the Small Business Insurance Parity Act II, allowing all Virginia businesses to offer domestic partner group life insurance benefits and they have helped pass anti-bullying legislation in our schools.

They Stand On The Side of Love each and every day by supporting an end to LGBT discrimination and steadfastly support the recognition of marriage for LGBT couples

Their focus this year is putting an end to discrimination in the workforce. Virginia does not have a workplace discrimination law to protect the LGBT community. Recent headlines of the firing of the VCU Women's Volleyball Coach demonstrate this. These decisions are not based on qualifications or job performance but on who you are and who you choose to love. Please help put an end to this by supporting SB701. Become a citizen co-sponsor by signing the petition at the EV site: <http://supportsb701.org/>

For more information, and to register for EV's Day of Action please visit: <http://www.equalityvirginia.org/dayofaction/>

On January 29th please join us, face your legislator, tell him/her how you feel about these issues and Stand On The Side of Love.

JUBILEE TRAINING WEEKEND

The First Unitarian Universalist Church of Richmond will offer an opportunity to deepen our understanding of the ways racism and racialized thinking influence us, our congregations and our communities, and of ways we have available to overcome racism and move toward Beloved Community. On January 11th, 12th and 13th, the church will sponsor Jubilee, the Unitarian Universalist Association's antiracism curriculum. Our very experienced trainers, Jyaphia Christos-Rodgers of New Orleans, LA and Leon Spencer of Statesboro, GA have conducted our training in prior years and are familiar with our congregation and our community.

The church will subsidize half of the costs for the training for our members and friends, and the registration fee is $75. We will make scholarships available so no one interested in participating in Jubilee will be turned away due to the fee. During the weekend, we will feed you very well with delicious meals prepared by local chefs from around the world. Anyone is welcome to join us for this weekend. Registration for those not associated with our church is $150. A limited number of places are available for the weekend so if you are interested in investing in this vital work, register at the Jubilee table at church on Sunday – January 6, 2013 or contact Jim Armstrong at Jacycle@principle2.org.

EVENTS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

Meet-Ups begin in January 2013

The membership committee welcomes you to an exciting new year and we are ready to offer a roster of meet-ups that we hope lend to that excitement. These are a continuation of the meet-ups that we introduced last year – no commitment, no registration. Just come if the topic interests you and those who show up decide where the group goes. Discussion? Action? It's a not-very-subtle effort on the part of the membership committee to introduce those with like interests within our church to each other.

January 15, 7 pm: poverty. Our own Adele MacLean has extensive knowledge on the situation in Richmond and she will be happy to share her knowledge. And what we might do about it.

January 16, 7 pm: birding. (This is a date change from Jan. 17.) We know we have experts on this topic within the congregation and hope they will share their knowledge with novices.

February 18, 7 pm: being or becoming active in dog or cat rescue.

February 26, 7 pm: cooking. Last year's meet-up was such a success that it had to turn late-comers away (home kitchens will accommodate only so many) and that group is still happily meeting and eating. So here's your chance at a second group.

Any questions or ideas for meet-up topics, contact Ro Studer at rostuder@comcast.net We would love to hear from you!

PUBLIC PRESENTATION: "CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL PROPOSAL FOR RICHMOND"

Sunday, January 20th at 7:30 p.m. in the Church Library

PACKids, Pediatricians Associated to Care for Kids, is a coalition of pediatricians and pediatric specialists in Central-Virginia who have come together to finally bring a free-standing children's hospital to Richmond. Their goal is to consolidate Richmond's pediatric care into one central location that provides outstanding care with improved outcomes to all the children in our community. This is an opportunity to hear from physicians involved in PACKids. You can check out their website at www.packids.org

DIDJA KNOW. . .

. . . 1st UU's Architect

Ulrich Franzen was born in Dusseldorf, Germany, January 15, 1921; emigrated to the United States in 1943; and became a naturalized American citizen in 1943. He holds a BA at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. and a MA at Graduate School of Design, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.; served in the United States Army (1942-1944).

Franzen resided and worked in New York, NY with his wife, Josephine Burgess, and their three children, Peter, David and April. It was there that this young man, with a mildly rebellious streak, formed an architectural firm that achieved a reputation for a unique style of modernistic design that is sensitive to the social context. He said;

"Architecture is the servant of its time and significant designs are the experiments of an era. The buildings that are designed become footprints of our own socio-cultural history, reflections of the ideas and concerns of an era, and not those of an individual."

Ulrich Franzen and Associates hold a long list of credits and awards for architectural accomplishments that are too extensive to list in this column; however, but I would like to draw your attention to one of his creations: The First Unitarian Church, 1000 Blanton St., Richmond, VA. (1972).

The above information appeared in a 2011 newsletter. I have recently learned the Ulrich Franzen died on October 6th, 2012, at the age of 91. His death was confirmed by his wife, Josephine, from their retirement home in Santa Fe. I will be providing additional information on Mr. Franzen, his unusual style of architecture, and his career at a later date.
