

Monday October 28, 2013

8:00 am - 3:30 pm

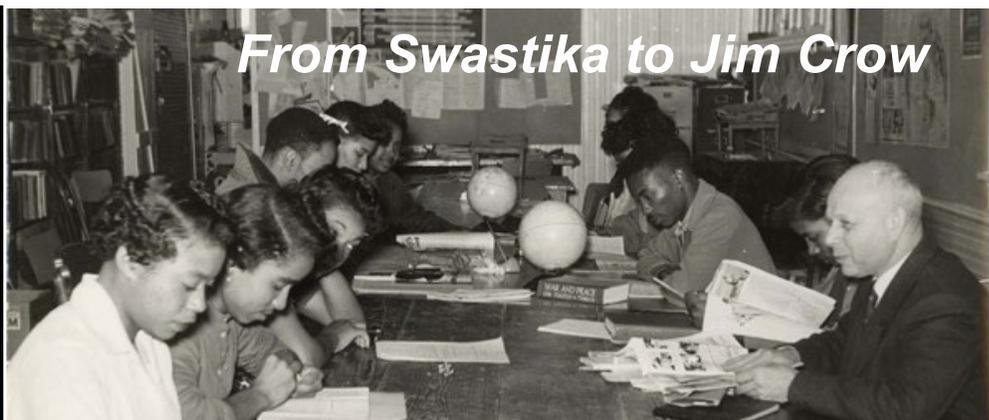

Event Location:
University of Memphis,
University Center adjacent to the Zack Culin Parking Garage
505 Zach H. Curlin Street,
Memphis, TN 38152

Danielle Kahane-Kaminsky
Executive Director
Phone: 615-343-1171
Email:
danielle.kahane-kaminsky@vanderbilt.edu

Ariana Ramos
Administrative Assistant
Phone: 615-343-2563
Email: ariana.ramos@vanderbilt.edu

TN Holocaust Commission
Vanderbilt University
2301 Vanderbilt Place
PMB 406311
Nashville, TN 37240-6311

From Swastika to Jim Crow

The Tennessee Holocaust Commission (THC) is proud to announce the 2013 Holocaust Education Conference, which is scheduled to take place on Monday, October 28, 2013 from 8:00 am—3:30 pm on the University of Memphis Campus at the University Center Conference Room. This year's program will feature the documentary film "From Swastika to Jim Crow," which tells the little-known story of two very different cultures that share a common burden of oppression. This is the story of Jewish intellectuals who were able to escape Nazi Germany and immigrate to the U.S. where they were confronted with anti-Semitism and public distrust. This group ultimately sought refuge in an unlikely place; the traditionally-black colleges of the segregated South. Securing teaching positions, these scholars came to form lasting relationships with their students, and made significant contributions to the communities they served. The film is based on the book by Gabrielle Simon Edgcomb.

Dr. Joyce Ladner

Dr. Joyce Ladner, the first female president of Howard University and a participant in the film, will serve as our keynote speaker. Her work has been foundational to our understanding of the strengths of black mothers and families, and articulated in her groundbreaking books Tomorrow's Tomorrow and The Ties That Bind.

NO COST TO ATTEND!

Registration required due to limited space.

Educators are encouraged to bring mature students.

To Register

Please visit the event home page:

<http://events.constantcontact.com/register/event?llr=4yuorrcab&oeidk=a07e7ns38o4e3532738>

Let all generations remember... so that it never happens again.