Announcing concurrent sessions for ASTD’s Career Development Day on 1/17

ASTD has selected a great line-up of speakers and concurrent sessions for Career Development Day on January 17. Click here to go to their website and view all of the session descriptions and more details about the entire event.

You don’t have to be a member of ASTD to attend or to benefit from this day. If you supervise trainers, facilitate a course, or just have an interest in training, you are sure to find sessions that fit your needs.

Career Development Day is from 8:00-4:00 on January 17 at the Holiday Inn and Suites West Des Moines. Breakfast and lunch are included, and exhibitors will be available throughout the day.

If you have questions about this event or would like to be an exhibitor, contact Cathy Belmont (cathy@atwtraining.com) or Max Gage (max@atwtraining.com).

For those who may not be familiar with ASTD …

ASTD is an organization whose members are learning professionals and others who are involved in training and development for their organizations. This event focuses on developing skills and competencies associated with classroom and online facilitation, coaching and mentoring, instructional design, training evaluation, learning technologies, and industry trends.
