Call for Abstracts

7th Annual Conference on the Science of Dissemination and Implementation

■ Cohosted by AcademyHealth and the National Institutes of Health

December 8-9, 2014 | Bethesda, MD

The Planning Committee selected the conference theme of “Transforming Health Systems to Optimize Individual and Population Health” to reflect the opportunity, excitement, and charge to the field that we have in 2014.

Now, more than ever before, the integration of evidence-based practices and service delivery has the capacity to impact healthcare delivery and population health. Therefore, the abstract submission topics and conference structure have been planned to focus our thinking and discussion on the highest priority science – current and future – to help realize this goal.

Abstracts are encouraged for three types of scientific sessions:

- Individual Oral Presentations
- Panels
- Poster Sessions

The goal of these sessions is to stimulate interactions among researchers and experts in the field. Therefore, the sessions will be structured and executed in order to optimize interaction and networking among conference participants.

Learn more and submit your abstract at www.academyhealth.org/DIconf2014.
