

Getting to the Goal

Michigan's No Kill Workshop

Thursday, September 26th

Awards Banquet & featured speaker
Kat Albrecht, author of The Lost Pet Chronicles &
Dog Detectives: Train Your Dog to Find Lost Pets

Friday, September 27th

All day hands-on workshop you can't afford to miss!

Effective Strategies for Reuniting Lost Dogs & Cats with their Owners!

Contrary to popular belief – far more stray animals are LOST not ABANDONED. This workshop will teach you how to get those lost pets back home.

The No Kill Equation identifies Proactive Redemptions (reuniting lost pets with their owners) as one of the most overlooked ways of reducing shelter population and associated costs while saving lives. Information on lost pet behavior and effective locating techniques has not been available...UNTIL NOW.

You'll learn how pets behave when lost, how far they travel, and the most effective techniques to find them based on the species and temperament. The workshop will also cover how innovative services can reduce shelter euthanasia rates and dispel myths even animal welfare advocates believe that prevent owners from being reunited with their lost pets

What shelter and rescue workers who attended the workshop are saying...

"The information gathered here puts us light years ahead of where we would be otherwise. We can go out and get started helping with lost pets right now. Without this seminar, it would take years to learn what we learned here!"

– Phil Reich, Jupiter, FL

"Kat is onto many ground breaking ideas that will soon be taught all over the country. Now is the time to get in on this idea and put it to use in your community!" – Rene Waskiewicz, Las Cruces, NM

"The nitty-gritty info on lost pet behavior and how to determine POD (probability of detection) and POA (probability of area) is particularly invaluable. This course is very well organized and taught and worth every cent!" – Jane Gardner, Quebec, CANADA

Who would benefit by attending this workshop?

- Shelter managers
- Shelter employees
- Animal control officers
- Rescue volunteers
- Veterinarians
- Vet techs
- Groomers
- Pet supply store owners & employees
- Pet owners and pet lovers
- Compassionate citizens

About the Instructor: Kat Albrecht is a former police officer, detective, and search and rescue manager. She founded Missing Pet Partnership, a grassroots national nonprofit organization dedicated to reuniting lost companion animals with their families. Since 1997, Kat has developed community-based lost pet recovery services and has trained professional pet detectives, volunteers, animal control officers, veterinarians, and shelter staff in the analysis of lost pet behaviors that contribute to the homeless pet crisis.

PRICE: Workshop $ 70 | Banquet $ 39

REGISTRATION: www.michiganpetfund.org

Embassy Suites – Livonia, MI

