SONYA DARROW: (319)Czech

(319)Czech is an exhibition of textile, mixed media and folk dress pieces by emerging artist Sonya Darrow. The exhibition is an exploration of the artist's identity, growing up in the Czech community of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Darrow used objects from her immediate environment as the main material for the exhibition. The core to the artist's practice is the collaboration within communities with a goal to start a dialogue on Czech culture and the importance of heritage.

2 October 2 - 14

IVA HUTTNEROVA: Paintings

An exhibition of paintings by Czech artist, actress and writer Iva Huttnerova. Huttnerova's poetic paintings depict the 'good old times of our grandmothers', the idyllic times of the early 20th century Prague, with meticulous details of era costumes and focus on social life.

3 October 24 - November 15

HANA JAKRLOVA: Atlantis

An exhibition of contemporary photographs by Czech artist Hana Jakrlova. In the presented new project, Jakrlova explores her own identity and questions her sense of belonging. Atlantis - the mythical land that might have never existed - is a metaphor of the personal search for home in the last decade when the artist travelled between Prague and New York.

4 December 10 - January 16
