

Full Time Physician Position

Steiner Medical and Therapeutic Center is a well-established integrative medical practice located one hour west of Philadelphia, near Valley Forge National Park. It is an area rich in culture, being close to Philadelphia, NYC and Washington DC, yet also rich in the beauty of nature. There is a large community of people engaged in a more holistic approach to life, with many organic/biodynamic farms, alternative schools, and health food stores, in the area. This has generated a population of individuals and families interested in integrative medical care. Steiner Medical is an internal medicine/family practice working with allied practitioners such as massage, counseling, and chiropractic - on site and in the local area.

Ira Cantor MD, the chief physician, has been in private integrative medical practice for 30 years. He was also the clinical director at the Center for Integrative Medicine at Thomas Jefferson University from its founding in 1998 until 2007. He is looking for an energetic physician with an interest in applying integrative medicine to both the complexities of internal medicine as well as the varied aspects of family medicine. We take care of a wide range of patients, both locally as well as those from more distant geographic locations who seek us out. Dr. Cantor has extensive experience and interest in mentoring, and would expect to be very active in this regard with any new physician colleague. We are especially looking for someone with a longer term interest, including the potential for partnership in the future. Salary and benefits are negotiable.

The practice is well respected and integrated into both the local medical community as well as with the more academic medical community located in Philadelphia. It is a busy practice, combining the full range of family medicine issues, as well as a substantial population of more complex patients, including patients with malignancies, chronic pain, patients with difficult to diagnose medical conditions, etc. We participate with most insurance, and have learned how to thrive medically and financially within the conventional insurance based medical paradigm.
