

Welcome to the New DASH BC Website

Evolving to meet the demands of 21st century learning

DASH has always been passionate about, and committed to, positively influencing the health and learning capacity of students in BC, from our early days of advocating for a provincial health curriculum to working with partners to build healthy schools. As DASH continues to grow and evolve, we have recognized that there is a new approach to learning, one that better prepares students to be healthy contributing citizens and life-long learners; as result, we are also taking a new approach and updating our look.

We want to stay at the forefront of the healthy schools movement – ensuring that all schools are the best place to learn, work, and play. As such, DASH’s website has also been evolving, continuing our commitment to BC’s students, and supporting others to contribute along with us. Over the past six months, we have been working hard to re-design the DASH website to make it easier for our visitors to navigate, to engage with us, and to learn about the work that we do.

Some of the new features that you will find on the site are:

- 1) Interactive Timeline: a showcase for the history and story of DASH
- 2) In Action: a place to watch videos and flip through photo albums highlighting some of DASH’s work around healthy schools.
- 3) The Library: a place to read healthy school stories and evidence that supports a comprehensive school health approach
- 4) Staff Bios: a chance to get to know our team of people committed to creating healthier students and healthier schools.
- 5) The DASH BLOG! We invite you to subscribe to the DASH blog and to engage in dialogue around topics related to healthy schools. Creating a healthy school isn’t something that DASH, teachers, students or parents can do on their own; it really involves a collaborative effort from everyone involved in the school community. We hope to hear from you.

We invite you to explore the new site, and to learn more about the work that we do. www.dashbc.ca
