

SENTENCE OF PASSION QUESTIONS

I'm delighted you'll be joining us for Creating Your Sentence of Passion. But it isn't simply a lecture where you listen to me pontificate – not at all. This is an interactive workshop. You'll work with me, and the other attendees, to come up with your own personal and creative statement of who you are and what you stand for that can illuminate your life from here on.

And in order to do that in the time allotted, you need to come in knowing yourself thoroughly! So – you've got homework...

Please answer the following questions IN WRITING before the workshop. Give these questions serious thought; without them, your sentence won't "jell."

Rev. Corbie

- What was your happiest moment? Why?
 - At work
 - In life in general

- Whom do you admire, and why?
- What ticks you off, and why?
 - (What we see in others is what we are growing in ourselves)

- What's your motto?
- What causes would you support?
- What's good in your life?
- What do you want to change?
- What superpower would you crave, and how would you use it?
- Do you have recurring dreams? If so, what are they?

- How do you learn best?
 - Seeing something done?
 - Hearing how to do it described?
 - Doing it yourself?

- Are you a big-picture person or a detail person?
 - How do you know? Example?

- In what situations do you put yourself first, and why?

- In what ways do you express your love for yourself?

- In what ways do you express love for others?
- What kind of a person are you?
 - Animal person
 - People person
 - Nature person
 - “Techno” person (more comfortable with inorganic things)
- Are you left brained or right brained?
- Do you feel threatened or exhilarated by the idea of change?
- What is freedom to you? Enough money, enough time, enough peace – or?
- What do you want to be remembered for?
- If you weren’t alive now, when would you want to live? What attracts you to the time period?
- If you had one gift you could give to everyone you know, what would it be?
- What would that gift do for them that, in your opinion, they need?
- When are you most at peace?
- When do you run towards something, rather than away from it?
- Are there recurring signs, symbols or happenings in your life?
- Are they coincidental or signposts for you?
- What moments find you feeling least valued?
 - Why?
 - How would you change that?
- How do you describe your personal power?
