◆ NEIGHBOR DISPUTE NOT SO NEIGHBORLY

A dispute between neighbors sent a Griffin Road man to jail Tuesday afternoon. Bartow County Sheriff's Deputies were called to 429 Griffin Rd. after a woman said her dog got out and ran across the street to Willie Bryant's residence. She told deputies as she approached his residence to get her dog he yelled "I'll kill this dog and you if you two come over here." She told officers he held a piece of concrete and acted like he was going to throw it at her. She said he yelled several obscenities. Bryant claimed the dog attacked his dog and he denied cursing the neighbor. However, witnesses said they heard the entire incident. Bryant, 65, is charged with terroristic threats, simple assault, disorderly conduct and going inside a guardline with a weapon.

◆ LAWMOWER SENDS MAN TO JAIL

A man riding a lawnmower got himself in trouble with the law Tuesday evening. Bartow County Sheriff's Deputies were called to 1120 Richards Rd., Rydal, after Lester Lee Johnston, 82, allegedly tried to hit his girlfriend with a riding lawnmower. His girlfriend said she was able to get out of the way but it came within a foot of hitting her. She then said he drove the mower to the horse pasture and chased the horses. His girlfriend said Lester gets angry easily when he drinks. Lester told deputies that the blades on the lawnmower weren't on. Sheriff's reports said due to Lester assaulting her with a weapon (lawn mower) Lester is charged with aggravated assault (FVA).
