www.LondonShoulderClinic.com

Dr Jeremy Lewis is a New Zealand born, Australian trained physiotherapist. He works in the NHS as well as working privately in central London. He has been awarded a Fellowship of the Chartered Society of Physiotherapy. He has been acknowledged as one of the 5 most eminent clinicians in his profession (UK DoH [Department of Health] National AHP Clinical Expert Database).

He assesses and treats patients with complex shoulder problems. Jeremy has also trained as a sonographer and performs ultrasound guided shoulder injections, (including intra-articular hydro-distension procedures for Stage III frozen shoulder) as part of the rehabilitation process if required and appropriate. He has also completed an MSc (Musculoskeletal Physiotherapy), and Postgraduate Diplomas in Sports Physiotherapy, and in Biomechanics, as well as MSc modules in injection therapy for soft tissues and joints. He also has a Postgraduate Certificate in Diagnostic Imaging (Ultrasound) (University of Leeds, UK). Since 1992, Jeremy has taught over 300 shoulder workshops internationally in the USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the Cayman Islands, Brazil, Chile, Argentina, The Azores, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, the Middle East, Ireland, South Africa, India, extensively throughout Europe and throughout the UK. He has also lectured on the shoulder at many international conferences. His main areas of research interest are rotator cuff tendinopathy, frozen shoulder contracture syndrome, shoulder pain syndromes and lateral epicondylitis. In addition to his own research he supervises PhD and MSc students. Jeremy is an associate editor for the journals: Shoulder & Elbow and, Physiotherapy. He was a co-editor and author for Grieve's Modern Musculoskeletal Physiotherapy (4th ed).

Jo Gibson MCSP MSc (Adv. Practice)

Jo Gibson is a Clinical Physiotherapy Specialist working at the Liverpool Upper Limb Unit at the Royal Liverpool Hospital and a Partner in private practice. She has worked as a Shoulder Specialist since 1995 and lectures Nationally and Internationally about assessment and rehabilitation of the shoulder complex. She provides a consultancy service to several elite sports teams regarding shoulder rehabilitation. Jo is also an Associate Lecturer at Liverpool University and has developed Masters modules for the diagnosis and treatment of upper limb pathology. Jo has published in peer-reviewed journals and has written several book chapters. She is a member of the British Elbow & Shoulder Society Research Committee, Co-Editor of the Educational section of the British Shoulder & Elbow Journal and Chair of the EUSSEER Education Committee.

Ben Ashworth MSc BSc (Hons) ASCC

First Team Physiotherapist - Arsenal FC

Ben is a highly experienced musculoskeletal physiotherapist. He worked in Premiership rugby with London Wasps before taking up a role at the Olympic Medical Institute for the British Olympic Association. Ben currently works as First Team physiotherapist at Arsenal FC having previously been the Lead Physiotherapist in London for the English Institute of Sport, working with Olympic medalists from Rowing and the Lead Physiotherapist for British Judo at the 2012 London Olympic Games. Ben's exposure to elite level rugby and Olympic Judo has fuelled his specific interest in the sporting shoulder.

Ben is currently completing his second masters in strength & conditioning at St Mary's University.

Dr Ian Horsley PhD MSc MCSP CSCS

NW Regional Physiotherapy Lead - English Institute of Sport

Ian has been a physiotherapist for over twenty years. In that time he has spent a considerable amount of time working with sportsmen and women. He worked as a physiotherapist for England Rugby Union, for 14 years, in with various teams, and spent the last 6 years working with the Elite Playing squad, as physiotherapist to England 'A'. Currently Ian is Lead Physiotherapist in the North West for the English Institute of Sport, and Technical Lead for the North directorate, as well as being clinical director of Back In Action Rehabilitation, in Wakefield, West Yorkshire. He has just been awarded a PhD in which he conducted research examining musculoskeletal causes of shoulder injuries within professional rugby, and is currently reviewing the role of physiotherapy within the management of musculoskeletal injury. He has published several articles in peer reviewed journals on the subject of musculoskeletal injury management, and was a member of the HQ physiotherapy team at the 2012 London Olympics and 2010 Commonwealth Games. In his spare time, Ian spends most of his time ferrying his children around to their various social and sporting engagements, and desperately trying to get some time with his wife!

Alex Wolf

MSc PG Dip BSc (Hons) ASCC

English Institute of Sport Head of Strength and Conditioning, GB Rowing

Alex Wolf is currently the Head of Strength and Conditioning for the English Institute of Sport and the lead Strength and Conditioning Coach for the GB Rowing programme.
