SUPER FRIDGE

Sometimes you open the fridge and realise that you have forgotten about that heap of lettuce or bag of asparagus, and you have to rush back to the store. To address this, Whirlpool has come up with an intelligent solution: using a Photocatalytic Preservation to keep food fresh for longer periods, and also when the original nutrient levels. The Photocatalytic Preservation uses an LED light to generate calcium hydroxide in the vacuum compartment that slows down the metabolic processes of all-grown food. Together with the automatic temperature adjustment, food stays in original freshness without freezing. In an effort to conserve the environment, the new technology also combines innovations such as the Intelligent Control and Power Saving mode to run efficiently and reduce energy consumption. The smart refrigerator has been awarded a high energy label by the national Environment Agency.

DE 5000 is available with refrigerator and DE 5000 DE 5000 is available with refrigerator, available at authorised dealers.
