Made simply with fresh ginger and cane sugar, Bruce Cost™ Ginger Ale from the United States is a naturally brewed and spicy-tart soda that is the ideal beverage to beat the heat. Brought in by Huber's Butchery, the ginger ale is made from whole, a hundred percent fresh ginger. The ginger ale is sweetened only using cane sugar, which is naturally sweet. As for the flavouring, only ginger is used. The subtle heat of the ginger—gentle on the taste buds—is a great combination with the mellow and smooth taste of the ale. "What I like about the ginger ale is that it is a simple four ingredients drink without all the chemicals that you find in most drinks nowadays. The sweetness from the cane sugar and heat from the ginger are perfectly balanced and it is immensely addictive and refreshing when served with ice," says Andre Huber, executive director of Huber's Butchery. Expect to taste the ginger particles, which rest at the bottom of the bottle. This is also unfiltered ale that comes in four different flavours: original, pomegranate and hibiscus, jasmine green tea and passion fruit. JT
