Yay! You DID it!

Starting planning and saving now to attend next year's conference. Print this chart and tape to a canning jar. The concept is simple. Each week, you deposit the number of that week of the year into a piggy bank. For example, the first week of the year, you would deposit $1; the second week, $2; and so on and so on. By the end of the year, you will have saved close to $1,400! While each person's expenses will vary, this savings plan will ensure you save more than enough for pre-conference course registration, pre-conference field trip registration, general conference registration, travel, food, lodging and other incidentals.

Some financial support from a few friendly organizations and agencies helps us keep registration costs down, but as a non-profit organization, we do not have an institution that covers the cost of this event. So yes, registration fees are necessary. We're sure you'll find this conference to be an excellent investment of time and money. We're also sure you won't get this value anywhere else.
