

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

Readers are 140% more likely to start a full-time job when they graduate.*

Today's job market may be one of the toughest ever for graduates. A Wall Street Journal Subscription can give you an edge over the competition by providing you with the information you need to take charge of your career and impress recruiters while providing you with tools and resources to use in your classes also.

The Journal can help you achieve career success

- Impress recruiters with your business acumen and insight about their companies.
- Identify booming industries and growth companies that are hiring.
- Utilize exclusive career tools and information at WSJ.com.

Every student subscription includes The Journal in print, online and via smartphone and tablet apps - so you'll have the information you need, when and where you need it. You'll also be a member of the Wall Street Journal Young Professionals Network, which will give you access to an exclusive LinkedIn group and help enhance your resume.

All student subscriptions are over 75% off regular rates - take advantage of this special offer and subscribe today!

Go to <http://wsj.com/studentoffer>

$1 per week for 15 weeks

Or Go to <http://wsj.com/impress> for 1 and 2 year rate options

Your subscription includes all 4 -
WSJ.com, Print paper, and Smartphone and Tablet Apps

Also at special educational savings of 60% off regular rates - Barron's magazine and Barrons.com. Keep up with constantly shifting global finances and changing markets. Go to <http://barrons.com/studentoffer> to subscribe- 52 weeks for $52.00, or 15 weeks for $16.00

* From The Wall Street Journal Corporate Research: 2009 Young Professional Study
Offers expire Dec. 31, 2014.