Michael Aasen

Partner - McLennan Ross LLP

As a partner with McLennan Ross LLP, Michael Aasen specializes in providing legal advice to his employment clients on their entire relationship with employees. He also has extensive experience providing independent legal advice to executives, both in negotiating employment agreements as well as advising executives on their rights and obligations upon departure. In addition, Michael regularly provides commercial litigation representation to his clients as required.

With offices in Calgary, Edmonton and Yellowknife, McLennan Ross is an established law firm committed to serving the legal needs of our clients in Alberta and the North. Founded over 100 years ago, McLennan Ross has grown today to more than 75 lawyers and an extensive support staff.
