

New Faces at NCBI

Steven Goings is a native of Seaside, a 2010 graduate of CSUMB with a major in Social and Behavioral Sciences. He started several clubs at CSUMB as a student including The Gathering and multicultural interfaith discussion group; he is a past president of the Monterey Peace and Justice Center and Secretary of the Monterey County Branch of the NAACP. His purpose in life is to break down the barriers between people and support them in healing.

An McDowell is a long-time NCBI chapter member and former board member. She taught Spanish for many years at the Salinas Adult School and for some years had a small business helping immigrants become citizens. In the past few years she worked as an aide for Assembly member Bill Monning and most recently did Spanish-language outreach for the VNA-Hospice.

Cecilio Aviles is an alumni of Seaside High School's NCBI leadership program where he served as NCBI club president. He is also a former president of the Latino Student Association at Alliant University and is a current supporter and member of the Human Rights Campaign whose mission is to ensure LGBT people their basic equal rights.

Steven, An, and Cecilio join a close knit team composed of Chapter Director Sue Parris, and board officers Elena Loomis, president; Asya Guillory, vice-president; Ben Bruce, treasurer; Jesse Tamayo, secretary.