PRESENTED BY:

JOHN VAN AERDE, MD MA PHD FRCPC

John has 25 years' experience as a neonatologist, first as a clinician-researcher, then in various leadership roles, including medical director of several neonatal intensive care units and regional director of the Northern Alberta Neonatal Intensive Care Program. Under his leadership and with the support of a large team, the latter program integrated 115 neonatal beds and one follow-up clinic in five different hospitals under one functional umbrella. He has served on many committees for regional, provincial and national organizations, including the Alberta Clinician Council, the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Alberta, the Canadian Paediatric Society and the Canadian Society for Physician Executives

John holds a PhD in medical sciences and a master's degree in leadership studies, and he has published extensively. He teaches at the School for Leadership studies at Royal Roads University, has 20 years of medico-legal experience and provides consulting services for a variety of academic and health care organizations.
