To Whom It May Concern:

The New Interdisciplinary School (NIS), a not-for-profit school serving children with and without disabilities from birth to age five, is having our 19th Annual Golf Outing honoring Joseph Morris, DDS at the Port Jefferson Country Club on June 15, 2015. This outing is one of our school's biggest fundraisers, and we rely on the donations we receive from this outing to enhance the critical programs we provide to our student population. A large part of the revenue from our golf outing comes from raffle ticket sales, so we are in need of exciting raffle prizes. Our raffle prizes will be displayed, each with printed acknowledgements of our merchants. This is a great, low-cost marketing opportunity, and for a great cause!

The New Interdisciplinary School is an innovative early childhood learning center that respects the unique needs of all children and their families. Our commitment is to provide therapeutic and educational services with the highest standard of expertise. We believe each child, regardless of disability, race or socioeconomic status, has the right to develop to his/her full potential.

NIS does receive funding from New York State and Suffolk County to cover programs and services for students with disabilities; however, we rely on donations to enhance these programs and services. Money for extra-curricular activities, like our Therapeutic Horseback Riding program, and expansion of classroom technology, such as smart boards and I-Pads, comes only through fundraising efforts. Money realized through these avenues is limited, so we need your help today!

Any contribution you can make that will allow us to realize our goal of enhancing programs for our children, would be greatly appreciated. The tax ID number of The New Interdisciplinary School is 11-2428403. If you require additional information, please call me at (631) 924-5583, ext. 128. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Susan Cali
