

THE DIOCESAN SCHOOL FOR CHRISTIAN STUDIES

Registration Now Open

The Diocesan School for Christian Studies is now open for Registration for the 2014 Fall Semester!

The program of studies is not just for those seeking orders as deacons in our Church. The School serves any and all lay persons who have an interest in developing skills to be more effective leaders in their parish settings. Perhaps you've want to know more about the Bible and wish to explore an Old or a New Testament course; or perhaps you want to learn skills as to how to develop an outreach ministry program for your congregation and community; or perhaps you are seeking a way to discern your own gifts and spiritual direction. Please take a look at our offering and come join us!

Please visit our newly revised and updated web site at www.dioschool.org.
Classes meet at Saint Mark's Episcopal School, Oakland Park, Fort Lauderdale starting on Saturday, September 13, 2014. Call Pamela Fuller, the Diocesan School Administrator, at 561-254-4548 with any questions.

Perhaps we will have the privilege of your presence!

Blessings,
The Very Rev. Dr. William L. Stomski, Dean
The Diocesan School for Christian Studies of
The Diocese of Southeast Florida
