

Newsflash: New Women's Studies Collective

We would like to introduce the new Women's Studies Collective, an interdisciplinary student-run organization invested in the vitality of Women's Studies at The University of West Florida. Our group meets monthly to discuss the most urgent issues facing women today. We regularly take reading recommendations from Feminist Theory Reading Group participants, and all materials are promptly distributed via email at least two weeks prior to the meeting date. Meetings take place Fridays at 6:00 pm at a local eatery in Pensacola, where we share critical conversation, inspiring new ideas, and good company. Through these gatherings we establish personal and professional networks that not only better us as individuals and students, but also as committed members of the academic and local community.
