What Does Success Mean - Measuring Your Impact

- Date: June 17
- Speakers: Bill Stanfield, Metanoia
- Location: Charleston, SC
- Certification Points: 10 points
- Description: The ability to measure results has become increasingly important for nonprofit organizations that rely on government and philanthropic funding to carry out their work. Those of us in the community development field know our work is valuable, but how can we effectively measure its impact? How can we keep the costs and complexities of a measurement system from getting out of hand? And how do we communicate that impact to funders and the community?

SCACDC 20th Anniversary Celebration and Annual Conference

Single Family Rental Housing Development—From Concept to Community (2-day interactive class)

- Date: October 28 and 29
- Speakers: Don Oglesby, Homes of Hope
- Location: Charleston
- Certification Points: 15 points
- Description: Join us for a 2-day interactive class where you will learn how to develop single family housing in your community using proven strategies and tools. You will leave this class with actual spreadsheets that you can use in your work and practical knowledge of how to analyze your project for fiscal sustainability. Don Oglesby and Dawn Dowden from Homes of Hope will share lessons learned and systems used in developing over 500 single family homes in SC. BRING YOUR LAPTOP (if you don't own one, we can possibly provide one—let us know) and also BRING EXAMPLES of actual development ideas you are thinking of doing in your communities. These will be incorporated into the training. Minimum of Excel 2007 must be loaded.
