OVERSEAS EMPLOYEE PROTECTION

Whether your company is in private business or a government contractor, employers need to provide the appropriate benefits and liability insurance to their overseas-based employees. Foreign Workers Compensation or Defense Base Act (DBA) coverage will protect employees from injury and General Liability, Foreign Auto, Professional Liability and Property coverage will protect the company assets from negligent employee activity or accidents. In some parts of the world, Kidnap and Ransom coverage is also a wise investment. Additionally, employers need to protect their employees while traveling abroad with Health, Accident, Life and Emergency Evacuation coverages. Having the right protection for overseas employees is not only an important part of any robust compliance program, but also an important step in mitigating potential liability and protecting employees.
