

2014 Annual Conference Call for Presentations

CONFERENCE TITLE

Looking Back, Planning Ahead: A Vision for the Next 40 Years in Juvenile Justice

DATES

Hill Day – June 18, 2014

Conference Dates – June 19-21, 2014

LOCATION

Omni Shoreham Hotel

2500 Calvert St NW

Washington, DC 20008

DESCRIPTION

Each year, the Coalition for Juvenile Justice (CJJ) hosts a national conference uniquely focused on improving juvenile justice and delinquency prevention systems, services, practices and policies. Nearly 300 juvenile justice practitioners and advocates from across the U.S. and its territories are expected to attend. For more information about CJJ, please visit www.juvjustice.org.

Join us this year as we consider these issues and discuss key lessons learned over the past four decades in juvenile justice. CJJ's 2014 Annual Conference will focus on developing a vision for the next 40 years in juvenile justice. Specifically:

- What are some of the lessons learned in terms of practices, policies and research on what works in juvenile justice since the initial passage of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act on September 7, 1974?
- What are the implications of these lessons for the future for the field of juvenile justice?
- What are some of the emerging or unanticipated issues in the field that the field is grappling with?

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

CJJ invites proposals for concurrent workshop sessions to be held on Friday, June 21, 2014. The Conference Planning Committee will select a maximum of twelve (12) presentations in total.

WORKSHOP CONTENT

Interactive presentations should be designed to last 75 minutes. We are particularly interested in workshops that focus on one or more the following:

- Adolescent Brain Science
- Disproportionate Minority Contact and Special Populations (including girls, and LGBT youth)
- Mental Health
- Status Offenders
- School-to-Prison Pipeline
- Cross-over Youth
- Family and Youth Engagement
- Juvenile Justice System Reinvestment

Workshops will be slotted into one of three tracks:

Skills, Tools or Training – workshops in this track will focus on providing information that has practical application to the work of one or more constituents of juvenile justice stakeholders and/or provides participants with new tools or skills. For example, a successful workshop proposal might train State Advisory Group members on how to engage and sustain participation of youth members.

Research or Emerging Knowledge – workshops in this track will focus on providing participants with information and research from the field. This could include new and emerging information being gleaned from promising practices that may not yet be peer-reviewed and evaluated. For example, a successful workshop proposal might share lessons that practitioners are beginning to learn about how to effectively work with girls who were trafficked.

Policy, Education and Advocacy – workshops in this track will focus on providing participants with information or tools that they need to further key juvenile justice change efforts, or how to induce policymakers and others to implement change in juvenile justice practice or systems. For example, a successful workshop proposal might provide an overview of policies that provide alternatives to school-based referrals to juvenile court for status offenders.

Successful workshop proposals will include no fewer than three of the following elements:

- Overview of the issue and its current status
- Learning principles
- Current and future practice implications
- Current and future policy implications or opportunities for advocacy
- Explanation of the role of key juvenile justice stakeholders or call to action
- Skills or tools to take away from the session

GUIDELINES FOR SUBMISSION

Workshop proposals will be submitted online.

Please be sure to have the following information ready at the time of submission:

- Suggested workshop title
- 50-75 word abstract
- 500-1,000 word expanded description, which includes:
 - Three learning objectives
 - Evaluation results and/or data to support assertions made
 - Unique features or impacts
 - Description of how the workshop incorporates three of the workshop elements described above
- List of specific audio-visual needs or set-up requirements. Presenters will need to provide their own laptops.
- List of all presenters:
 - Note who will serve as the Lead Contact for CJJ correspondence and who will serve as the session moderator.
 - There is a limit of 3 presenters, inclusive of the Lead Contact and Moderator. CJJ will assign a moderator if you do not have someone to fill that role (in that case, please limit your proposal to two presenters).
 - The following information is required for each proposed presenter:
 - Name
 - Title
 - Organization
 - Mailing address
 - Email
 - Biographical summary for each presenter (200 words max)

SELECTION CRITERIA

Presentations will be selected based on:

- Overall relevance to conference theme/tracks
- Added value to the conference as a whole, so that a variety of topics/viewpoints/approaches are represented
- Whether the presentation topic has the potential to be replicated through other state and/or local efforts
- The degree to which the presentation promotes audience interaction
- Whether the presentation bring new/fresh content to the CJJ audience

About the Coalition for Juvenile Justice (CJJ)

CJJ envisions a nation where fewer children are at risk of delinquency; and if they are at risk or involved with the justice system, they and their families receive every possible opportunity to live safe, healthy and fulfilling lives.

CJJ is a nationwide coalition of State Advisory Groups (SAGs) and allies dedicated to preventing children and youth from becoming involved in the courts and upholding the highest standards of care when youth are charged with wrongdoing and enter the justice system.

CJJ members include concerned individuals, practitioners, advocates and youth who voluntarily serve at the state and national levels. CJJ is governed by an Executive Board of national and regional officers. All of CJJ's formal positions on policy and related matters are developed and approved by a super-majority of the CJJ Council of State Advisory Groups (SAGs). The Council comprises the Chairs or Chair-designees of SAGs holding membership in CJJ.
