

Since its founding in 1927, the Quebec PGA has built a very solid reputation on the Canadian and U.S. golf scenes. As of the 2000 season, it has offered its members the most lucrative circuit for club professionals in North America, out of 51 PGAs.

In 2010, the Quebec PGA rekindled the Canada Cup after 44 years of absence. This major event on the international golf scene was held in many countries between 1953 and 1966. Since 1967, the event beard different names; the World Cup (1967-1992), the Golf World Cup (1993-1999), the WGC World Cup (2000-2006) and finally, the Omega Mission Hills World Cup (2007-2009).

This prestigious national event now counting towards the RBC PGA of Canada Player Ranking (class B event) will be held this year July 28 to August 3 at Victoriaville Golf Club, in the city named the same. That name might be familiar to some of you as Victoriaville Golf Club hosted 11 Quebec Opens between 1978 and 1991_ and the Quebec Open was quite an event...
