Mr. Worley brings to Pinnacle over 27 years' experience in the efficient and effective management of quasi-governmental entities (Special Districts) with a particular talent for creating positive community/entity interaction and possessing a wealth of personal relationships in the development and governmental communities. As District Manager for Pinnacle, Jim manages all phases of District management including the formation of districts, administrative management, bonding, budgeting, long range planning, operations and management of district facilities, governmental compliance with the state and continued liaison with governmental entities. His experience includes nine years managing the districts that served the fastest growing community in the US known as Highlands Ranch. During seven of those nine years, Mr. Worley also managed Centennial Water & Sanitation District serving Highlands Ranch.

Most recently, Mr. Worley managed the water and sanitation district, a metropolitan district and a park and recreation district serving the Todd Creek Village community located in Adams County Colorado. Previously, Mr. Worley worked for R. S. Wells LLC, a consulting and contracting company in metro Denver that specializes in the creation of Special Districts to manage, finance, build and operate public facilities. He managed thirteen districts/authorities including the Cherry Creek Basin Water Quality Authority established by the state legislature.

He has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business and Public Administration from the University of Texas at Dallas. Mr. Worley is very active in his community, serving as Citizen Board Member for the Douglas County Emergency Telephone Service Authority (E911), Advisory Board member for the Highlands Ranch Metropolitan District and Trustee for the Highlands Ranch Park & Recreation Foundation. He married Melanie in 1975 and they raised two children. The true joy in Mr. Worley's life is spending time with Melanie and his family.
