runs May 23 to July 3. She will also be showing with the Abstract Art Collective in the exhibition "Voices" at the Bronfman Jewish Community Center gallery in Santa Barbara. The exhibition runs from at June 1 through August 19 at 524 Chapala Street.

■ Robert Diehl's photograph "Broom & Bicycle" won second place in the just concluded Ventura County Art Council's exhibition, Daily Affairs. Winning was a family affair at the recent Santa Paula art show where his stepdaughter Kimberly won third place in multi-media, his wife Candace won second place in photography, and Robert won first prize in Photography.

■ Judith Crowe's pastel painting, "Moonstone Beach" (below) was accepted into the CA 101 exhibit in Redondo Beach. The show will open on Friday, June 20 with a summer solstice celebration on the pier, and run through June 27. Another pastel, "Na Pali Coast" was awarded second place at the Arts Council of the Conejo Valley show May 4-29 at the Thousand Oaks Community Gallery.

■ Margy Gates is returning from a five week sojourn in Anacortes, Washington, where her illustrations for the Exploring the Salish Sea book have been finished and sent off into the next process. It is one of many. It has been an amazing process and Puget Sound is gorgeous but Margy says it will be good to get home.

■ Louisa Wallace Jacobs received a First Place (Oil/Acrylics) for her painting "Blue Estuary" at the Arts Council of the Conejo Valley Open Show. Exhibit was in the Thousand Oaks Community Gallery in Newbury Park during May 2014. She also received an Honorable Mention for her painting "Red Raven" in the Santa Paula Society of the Arts Annual Open Show in Santa Paula in January 2014
