

Dear Caux Scholars,

We are reaching out to you again regarding the wonderful opportunity to participate in the Caux Scholars Program Reunion-August 8-10, 2014. If you would like to relive your Caux experience and meet your classmates along with other Caux Scholars, this is an opportunity for you.

Some people are making this a family occasion and bringing children. Caux is set up for some child care for children of a certain age with both Caux interns and parents working the schedules and duties out together. Children under 5 stay free at Caux. CSP alumni will pay the reduced price of 105 Swiss francs per person. Remember that Caux is expensive, but this is reasonable for Switzerland and it does include meals.

Outline of Reunion August 8-10: We'll gather on the 8th for supper on the terrace and some gathering time afterwards. Saturday morning we'll explore the importance of self-care with Barry, Carl and Pumla Goboco-Madikizela, who is well known in South Africa for her part in the Truth and Reconciliation Commission. Over lunch we hope to capture some of your thoughts and experiences around the topic of corruption, "Corruption is a peacebuilding issue of critical concern." It is a subject that scholars may wish to work on as a collaborative project. A break for sports, a walk or a rest and then we'll move on to tea and the CSP Symposium. There we will highlight the experience of 6 former scholars, Sam Doe, Saira Oraksai, Abdujalil Abdurasulov, Mohammed Hashem, Ifeoma Malo and Ioana Bunescu.

Others of you are welcome to add your thoughts on the topic: The Importance of Dignity, Integrity and Identity in Building Peace with Justice, whether you are in Caux or not, by writing a two-page paper which we can incorporate into our report and a possible academic article.

Sunday will be a day to enjoy the out of doors and we will reconvene for tea and a discussion on the future of CSP. We welcome your ideas!

We hope that some of you will stay on for the International Peace-builders' Forum, August 11-13. IofC is partnering with the ICP (International Conflict and Prevention), Creators of Peace and CSP. So come and help us host this event! There will be groups from Egypt, Cameroon, Japan and some exhibitors from around Europe. One of note is The Corrymeela Community in Northern Ireland that focus on reconciliation.

Be in touch! We would love to have your recollections of Caux!
