

Department of Social Work—Tenure-Track Assistant/Associate Professor

The George Mason University, College of Health and Human Services invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level.

We are seeking a colleague whose innovative ideas and research agenda support our mission of excellence in educating graduate and undergraduate students in a culturally heterogeneous environment and who shares our commitment to social justice. Our MSW program originated with a focus on macro practice, and we retain a strong commitment to both our social change and clinical concentrations, as well as to BSW education. The Department of Social Work is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education and has 300 MSW and BSW students. We are seeking a colleague to join us in a collaborative teaching and research environment.

Requirements:

- Earned doctorate in social work or a closely related field
- MSW from a CSWE-accredited program
- Minimum of two years post-MSW practice experience, and
- The ability to maintain an active research agenda.

Level of appointment is based upon qualifications. For appointment at the Associate Professor level, the candidate must have an established record of research and publication.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Teaching experience, including ability to teach both BSW and MSW students
- Experience conducting agency or community-based research
- A record of seeking external funding to support a program of research
- The ability to teach one or more of the following
 - Behavioral health

- Clinical practice
- Human behavior
- Policy practice
- Community development & community practice
- Direct practice with individuals, families, & groups

Salary:

Salary is competitive, and based on experience and qualifications.

The University:

Rated by U.S. News and World Report as one of the top up-and-coming universities, and named as one of the great universities to work for by the Chronicle of Higher Education, George Mason University (www.gmu.edu) is recognized for its innovative approaches to higher education. Its northern Virginia location, just outside Washington, D.C., makes Mason the destination for over 33,000 students from all 50 states and 131 countries. George Mason University is an equal opportunity employer encouraging diversity.

To Apply:

Applications are to be submitted electronically for position F9092Z at <http://jobs.gmu.edu/> . All candidates must apply online and include a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; and names, e-mail and postal addresses, and phone numbers of three references.

Review of applications will begin October 8, 2014 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Sunny Harris Rome (srome@gmu.edu). Desired start date is August, 2015.