

Roy Hatcher

Roy Hatcher has worked as a Realtor and was Top 50 Realtor in the Nation. He retired at the age of 43 and through life's circumstances made some choices which resulted in him becoming homeless. He decided this was not the life he wanted to live and started changing his thinking through different information resources.

He was introduced into LIFE LEADERSHIP while running a successful business in real estate renovations and foreclosure cleanouts. Within six months, he and his wife Brenda became job optional by applying this information to their lives.

Roy and Brenda have seen many changes in their lives in the areas of faith, family and finances. They now share hope into thousands of people's lives across the nation by helping others become successful.

They credit their freedom to the systematic educational materials they acquire through LIFE LEADERSHIP.

LIFE Leadership is a company that specializes in producing personal development materials offered for sale through independent LIFE Members. One of the mainstays of the LIFE Leadership approach to personal growth is the development of communities that encourage people to improve their leadership, people skills, and other core competencies. The founders of LIFE Leadership have designed their learning programs to follow the principles consistent with long-term high achievement, namely, small, affordable doses of information and truth learned and applied consistently over time. This is predominantly accomplished through the format of monthly subscriptions, which focus on the "8Fs," the categories through which we live out our lives: Faith, Family, Finances, Fitness, Following, Freedom, Friends, and Fun.

For more information, visit <http://www.lifeleadership.com/FAQ.aspx>.