"That energy which makes a child hard to manage is the energy which afterward makes him a manager of life."

- Gary Smalley and John Trent

Park Day
May 8th, 2014
11:00 am - 1:00 pm
Donnelly Park, Turlock

Meet us at the South West Corner in the chain-link fence playground. Bring a picnic lunch and look for our red banner!

Physical Challenge

Take a trip to your local park and try out the monkey bars. Those are the horizontal bars the kids hang from and reach from one bar to the next to work their way across. A really good thing to teach your child is to 'drop' without fear. Have your child hang from a bar, and with your support, tell them to let go and drop making sure to bend his/her knees when he/she hits the ground to absorb the shock. This provides them with a tool for a time when they are on the monkey bars and they need to change their minds about continuing across.

Wiggly Worm

It's Wiggly Wiggle-Worm come up on top
To squirm and wiggle; he just won't stop
He'll stretch and stretch, and crawl and crawl,
See - first he's big and then he's small.
It's Wiggly Wiggle-Worm come to call.

Have a glorious summer
and keep learning!!
