CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

As the clinical, financial and operational challenges of providing emergency care have proliferated in the past few years, rural hospitals have been rising to meet those challenges. Experience has shown that rural facilities can provide care that is second to none, and exceed expectations on financial and performance measures in the process.

The second Comprehensive Advanced Life Support (CALS) Hospital Conference can provide you with the up-to-date information, skills and knowledge you need to meet and overcome those challenges.

Physicians, nurses, P.A.'s, N.P.'s, EMS personnel, managers, and administrators are invited to participate in interactive discussions and workshops on:

- The rural emergency department as a flagship service for the hospital, hospital system and the community
- Maximizing efficiency and productivity in the rural ED
- Best new critical care literature for rural providers
- Behavioral health emergencies in the rural setting
- New and practical emergency equipment
- Safe and effective procedural sedation
- Emergency case studies
- And much more!

Bring your whole team on April 26, 2013 for an opportunity to learn about critical resources, to see and trial new products, and network with others in the rural hospital community – then stay for the Best of Hennepin Conference: Advances in Resuscitation on April 27 and 28. We look forward to seeing you!
