The newest restaurant on NH's Seacoast is also the perfect setting for private functions. Designed/built by the owners of the River House Restaurant in downtown Portsmouth, Atlantic Grill is located in nearby historic Rye, NH. It's "coastal classic" architecture is set amidst lush up-lit plantings; New England field stone foundation; exposed driftwood grey beams, bronze nautical accents; and calm ocean colors echoing its logo – the mermaid.

The restaurant's Oceanic Room, which can easily serve up to 140 seated dinners, features driftwood grey exposed beams, gold and sage carpets, and natural light from large windows overlooking lush gardens. The room has flexible floor space and state of the art technology for projection and music. Its retractable walls of sound-proofed frosted glass and wood allow this room to be easily divided into three separate dining spaces that can serve corporate dinners, large family get-togethers, or meetings, and have the flexibility to handle dinner theater shows, music, and other entertainment. Light blocking Hunter Douglas shades provide the appropriate amount of filtration for shows and presentations, and create a more intimate environment.

The state of the art kitchen is a dream for chefs: they can be creative, expressive, and have proper space for whipping up all their own sauces, dressings, and desserts. Atlantic Grill staff look forward to planning private parties and gatherings. With ample parking, and easy access to downtown Portsmouth or the beautiful beaches in Rye, or the Seacoast Science Center, Atlantic Grill is a perfect destination for any large gathering!
