

Do you have a chronic or acute injury that prevents 100% career participation? Are you in need of surgery? The Kees Brenninkmeyer Foundation can help you.

Year after year numerous guides are forced to leave their career because of either a chronic or acute injury. Unfortunately, since the financial burden is so great for the advanced surgeries and rehabilitation therapy that are available today, many alpine professionals are not able to return to a limitless career and remain in financial hardship. Therefore, being physically healthy is integral to any guide's livelihood.

The mission of the Kees Brenninkmeyer Foundation is to financially assist alpine guides, patrollers, or instructors who require surgery in order to continue their careers. Since inception in 2011, we've financially assisted over 53 injured alpine professionals who all achieved a full career return.

If you are seeking medical treatment for an injury that prevents 100% career participation, please visit our website for more information, www.keesbfoundation.org. To apply, please submit our request for application materials form, <http://www.keesbfoundation.org/apply/>.
