

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

INDIANA UNIVERSITY–PURDUE UNIVERSITY FORT WAYNE

A Gray Barn Rising

A Poetry Reading by Indiana Poet Laureate, George Kalamaras

A Gray Barn Rising is an evening of poetry by newly appointed Indiana Poet Laureate, George Kalamaras, Professor of English at Indiana University–Purdue University Fort Wayne.

Kalamaras will celebrate his state appointment by presenting to IPFW and the greater Fort Wayne community an evening of his original poetry, some of which deals with Indiana's geography, animals, and people, as well as with his travels in the American West.

Presented by George Kalamaras
Professor of English, IPFW
Indiana State Poet Laureate

Thursday, February 27

7:00 p.m.

Walb International Ballroom

Reading will be followed by a reception with cash bar.

Sponsored by IPFW's College of Arts and Sciences and Academic Affairs.

IPFW is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access University.