

XNE Financial Advising, LLC awards Celia Lewis as Client of the Month

Release Date: December 3, 2013 7:00 AM EST

WWW.XNEFINANCE.COM

XNE Financial Advising, LLC is proud to announce Miss Celia Lewis as November's Client of the Month. Miss Lewis will receive a $50.00 check from the company in recognition of her outstanding diligence in taking control of her personal finances.

Since meeting with XNE Financial Advising, LLC in early 2013, Miss Lewis has suppressed total debts by more than 3% and subsequently experienced a 24-point increase in credit score. While saving for emergencies, Miss Lewis focused on achieving her most feared issue...beginning the repayment of student loans from law school. Miss Lewis truly has the opportunity to X-Scape to Financial Freedom by becoming debt free as she continues to utilize the financial plan provided by XNE Financial Advising, LLC.

Message from Celia Lewis:

It took me months to find the money to pay for XNE Financial Advising services and it wasn't because it cost a lot (a sign that I needed help)! I was still spending money on frivolous things I thought I needed, but when I had no more money to move around and play with, it was a wake-up call. I realized I was spending instead of saving...I bought material things instead of saving money for my son's future. I continued to put my law school loans in forbearance determined I'd never be able to pay them and be able to save money as a single mom, afford my mortgage, gas, or even groceries.

But now, I'm saving money, and my finances are organized in a yearly budget. Xavier Epps of XNE Financial Advising, LLC has relieved me of stress I thought would never go away. He's always there when I need his help. I'm still amazed at the fact that now I'm paying my law school loans, saving, spending to treat myself or my son to new clothes and also started a sole proprietorship called "SavvyFitMoms" to help and encourage moms to workout utilizing budget - friendly resources. I have X-Scaped to Financial Freedom but its still a journey because we must stick to a budget, stay on track, and hold ourselves accountable. I'm still learning but I'm also growing and I have XNE Financial Advising to thank for that!

XNE Financial Advising, LLC is a financial service company that focuses on core financial management of individuals and small businesses. An independent/private, fee-only firm located in the state of Virginia that provides services to individuals & businesses on financial and business management matters with concentration of clients in the tri-state area of District of Columbia and beyond.

Click to Share This Testimonial

