Lovin' Jesus and Moxie

St. Matthew's participated in Lisbon's 32nd annual Moxie Festival (July 11-13) with an evangelistic Moxie that put us in contact with our community and those from away.

Senior Warden Bob Couture hands out candy while Nathan Deveau pulls the St. Matthew's float. Special thanks to Arlene and Bob Couture for making the float.

More of the St. Matt's Moxie Float

From our sign on Route 196, to creating a float to the theme of "It's Always Moxie Season in Maine," to selling Moxie Festival t-shirts, to wearing our St. Matthew's Moxie t-shirts, to providing lunch on Sunday for the Chief Worumbo Androscoggin River Racers, St. Matt's helped make Jesus known.

Selling Moxie Festival T-shirts

(From left) Pat Ringrose, Louise Lord, and Sherrie Dentico selling t-shirts on Friday night before the fireworks. We also thank Melissa Ciccarelli and Shannon Staples for selling on Friday night.

St. Matt's at the Recipe Contest

Worship leader Janice Sargent participated in the Friday night Moxie Recipe Contest. She wore her St. Matthew's Moxie t-shirt and was interviewed by Channel 8 reporter Dave Charnes.

Selling by the Main Street Stage

(From left) Nok Bisson, Isabelle Michaud, Mary Maloney and Courtney Sargent sold hundreds of Moxie Festival t-shirts on Saturday before and after the parade. We also thank Jefferson Lane and Gail Rogers who were part of the Saturday selling team.

We sold everything except five 3X shirts and one child's 6-8. Whoo-hoo!

Feeding racers & spectators

St. Matthew's Women's Group and some of our high school seniors raised money by selling lunches at the 16th Annual Chief Worumbo Androscoggin River Race on July 13th.

We give a shout out to Joe Philbrick, Paula Caron, RJ Sargent, and Becket Wagner for staffing the spectator lunch table. They sold hot dogs and Moxie pulled pork.

Racers get their special lunches

Lisa Caron and Mary Maloney give out the racer's lunches.

The River Race Lunch Committee Chair Lisa Caron thanks those who helped with the racer's lunches:

- Wilma Harmon for making the Moxie pulled pork
- Deb Calhoun for making the gluten free veggie/vegan sandwich made with gf bread roasted garlic hummus, spinach, cukes, and shredded carrots
- Pat Hammond for making the lobster rolls
- Louise Lord for making the carrot/celery sticks
- Jeannie Stowell for making Aunt Ruby's Blueberry Cake (a 200-year-old family recipe)

Lots of smiles

We thank George Caron for setting up and breaking down with the guys, Middle Schooler Courtney Sargent for directing traffic and Mary Maloney for passing out racer lunches.

We thank the Androscoggin Land Trust for making us their partners in this race.

Please support the local businesses that donated to St. Matthew's for these river racers' lunches:

- Amatos Brunswick;
- BJ's Club, Auburn
- Cantrell's Seafood;
- Coca Cola/Moxie
- Hannaford Topsham;
- Perkins Food;
- Sam's Club Augusta;
- Target Topsham and
- Utz Potato Chips

St. Matt's parishioner John Calhoun, his son Andrew and their friend Mallori Clark participated in the river race.

Our sign says it all!
