COUNTRY•GOSPEL•BLUEGRASS CONCERT

Sunday, September 28, 2014, from 3-5 PM at Vernon Presbyterian Church,
S71 W23280 National Avenue, Big Bend, WI 53103
featuring these fine artists:

Pebble Creek Crossing is an acoustic string band playing folk, country, blues, Gospel, bluegrass and other music. Their goal is to have fun playing and for you to have fun listening! In the picture above, band members are from left to right, Brett Kemnitz on Upright String Bass, Peter Lee on Autoharp and Vocals, (Guest banjo player Becky Heile will be playing in Peter's place in this concert.) Next is Carroll Brown, the leader, Lorraine Hagedorn, Guitar and Vocals and Patti Stotmeister, Fiddle, Guitar and Vocals. When Brett is singing one of his own cool compositions, he switches to guitar and Carroll switches to bass. This requires complicated choreography which alone is worth the price of admission. Carroll also sometimes sings and plays harmonica but not at the same time.

A social will follow the Concert. Refreshments will be Available!

A free will offering will be collected
as well as non-perishable food for the Food Pantry
