Happy New Year President Obama!

What's on my wish list for 2013?

Minimum wage and overtime protections for home care workers!

December 15, 2012 marked the one-year anniversary since you announced the proposed rule to extend federal minimum wage and overtime protections to home care workers. But despite over 20,000 supportive comments during the public comment period, the rule has not yet been finalized.

Please keep your promise to home care workers, who, in your words, "[...] deserve to be treated fairly. They deserve to be paid fairly for a service that many older Americans couldn't live without."

The home care workers and other advocates who stood on stage with you for this important announcement, and the 2.5 million home care workers across the country, can't wait any longer for these long-overdue but basic labor protections.

Please finalize the proposed rule now.

Thank you,
