Century Savings Bank Donates Computers to Salem County Autism Center

PENNSVILLE, NJ (August 13, 2014) – Century Savings Bank recently donated five computers to the Salem County Center for Autism. On August 5, 2014, representatives of the Bank presented the donation to Debra S. Behnke, Executive Director of the organization, in support of their occupational and developmental service initiatives. With the aid of the additional computers, the Center will be better able to meet the needs of those diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) throughout South Jersey.

Deborah Holman, Vice President of Marketing and Branch Development Coordinator at Century Savings Bank noted, “The use of modern technology has proven to be very effective in providing educational, behavioral and therapeutic resources for those effected by autism.” As a true community bank, Century Savings Bank is committed to assisting organizations such as the Salem County Center for Autism in their mission to provide education and resources to individuals with Autism and their families.
